Kansas Digs Out After Blizzard Paralyzes Area

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City is digging out from under 15 inches of snow today after the worst blizzard in 46 years.

The storm left 17 dead in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois as it whipped on a northeastward path Tuesday night.

It left 10 to 12 inches of snow in southeastern Iowa, northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin before blowing itself out along the Great Lakes.

Most of the deaths were attributed to accidents on slick roadways or heart attacks after shoveling snow or bucking drifts.

The storm concentrated its worst punishment on an ellipse straddling the Missouri-Kansas line and bounded by Topeka, Kan., and St. Joseph, Lexington and Butler, Mo. Topeka is 68 miles west of Kansas City, St. Joseph is 55 miles north, Lexington is 40 miles east and Butler 70 miles south.

MOST OF THIS area got at least a foot of snow. Odessa, Mo., 38 miles east of Kansas City, had 18 inches. Kansas City's 17 was the greatest snow depth since a two-day, 25-inch storm in March 1912.

A frigid paralysis still gripped the Missouri-Kansas area today.

Nearly all the schools were closed and industrial plants were shut down.

Snow drifts up to six feet deep blocked five major highways: U.S. Routes 36, 24, 40, 50, and 71. Other main arteries were reduced to one way traffic in spots.

The snow let up in Kansas City at 5:40 p. m. after 26 hours. Thirteen inches fell in the final 12 hours, an all-time record.

Wind gusts up to 40 miles an hour whipped it into drifts and cut visibility at times to less than a block. Temperatures were in the low 20s.

Main thoroughfares here were packed trenches only two lanes wide between high ridges of plowed snow at the curbs. Most side streets still were impassable, cluttered with abandoned cars.

Downtown hotels overflowed with stranded suburbanites. Forecasters reported a new snowstorm brewing in the West and said it might hit southwest Kansas tonight.

While the storm was virtually spent, snow continued to fall in the vast area bounded by the Mississippi River and western Ohio and the southern Great Lakes to Kentucky and Tennessee.

SNOW WAS expected to dwindle to flurries and gradually end today in the Ohio Valley region.

The Ohio Department of Highways' weather bulletin today listed highways as slippery in spots north and west of a line through Painesville, Chardon, Medina, Wooster, Mount Gilead, Columbus, Circleville, Hillsboro and West Union.

Roads also are reported slippery in spots in Lancaster, New Lexington, Zanesville and the Canton area. Secondary roads are slippery in spots in Chillicothe, Waverly and Portsmouth. High water conditions exist on Ohio 680 in Meigs County and Ohio 50 in Athens County, but the roads are open to traffic.

HOPE FOR FINDING Big Plane Waning

HONOLULU (AP)—Hope of finding any survivors in the crash of a C-54 Military Air Transport Stratocruiser waned today and the Navy withdrew most of the ships searching the area southwest of Hawaii.

Seven men were aboard the Bailey of the 1501st Air Transport Wing, Travis Air Force Base, four-engine plane. Col. Darlene Bailey of the 1501st Air Transport Wing, Travis Air Force Base, Calif., said here Tuesday night chances of finding any of them were "pretty hopeless."

The Navy confirmed that debris found 277 miles to the southwest was wreckage of the plane. It apparently crashed Sunday on a flight from Hawaii to Kwajalein.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cathy Cinders may be the most audacious betrayer of her sex in history.

Cathy claims men are better drivers than women.

For four years, she has been teaching people to drive around Los Angeles—possibly the toughest place to navigate an auto in the nation.

Cathy says she'll concede that a man's confidence makes him a better driver, but adds that "his stubbornness about learning makes him a poorer pupil."

"I guess a woman learns more easily," she said, "but a man drives better afterward."

Why?

Well, in the first place, Cathy said, women take too much for granted. They'll breeze down a freeway loaded with cars, and they think all they have to do is signal for a lane change and every vehicle in sight will stand on its hood to accommodate them.

"Half the time," Cathy said, "a woman will stick her arm out for a signal and turn the wheel at the same time."

An Overdue Reunion

WACŁOW DEBICKI, 51, who was kidnapped in Poland when he was 3 days old, is greeted by his sister, Mrs. Mary Poulston, in New York. Debicki is joining his 75-year-old mother in East Chicago, Ind. He had been kidnapped by a servant who gave him to a childless couple. Years later, the servant admitted the crime, but immigration and World War I complications prevented him from joining his parents in the U. S. Debicki married when he was 17 and decided to stay in Poland. He will spend three months in the United States.

Police Assist in Improving Elementary School 'Patrols'

A program for evaluation of the Washington C. H. "School Patrol" system through the cooperation of city police was announced Wednesday by Superintendent of Schools W. A. Smith.

The plan calls for the selection of a "Patrol of the month" on a regular basis.

Police Chief D. Vaiden Long has assigned City Patrolman Herschel Taylor to work with the school patrols which each school day, guard the street crossings used by elementary pupils.

An evaluation sheet has been prepared which will permit police to grade each patrol on the basis of its diligence and alertness while on duty, its adherence to the rules set up for the patrols and the general appearance and neatness of each patrol.

DILIGENCE in duty covers such fields as proper handling of flags, posture, businesslike conduct and watchfulness.

Among the rules imposed on the patrols are these: Don't try to direct traffic; hold the children back until after the caution light has changed; prevent jay-walking.

Police will make monthly recommendations to each elementary building on the activities of that school's patrol and, in addition, will name a "School Patrol of the Month" on the basis of general excellence.

APPROXIMATELY 50 boys and girls serve on school patrols throughout the city. These groups range from six to nearly 15 in number.

Supplies for the patrols are furnished by the Fayette County Automobile Assn. which also furnishes controls for the driver-training car.

Normally each PTA honors its patrol boys and girls twice a year, and the City PTA Council sponsors a baseball trip to Jet Stadium once a year.

THE STORE advertised Prestone for $2.49 a gallon. The manufacturer's "fair trade" price was $2.95 a gallon.

Ohio's Fair Trade Act permits the manufacturer of a branded or trade-marked product to set minimum retail prices through contracts with dealers. The statute labels sale of such products at less than stipulated prices as an unfair trade practice.

In upsetting the section dealing with non-signers, the high court said it delegated legislative power to private persons and thus was invalid.

The Mentor stores said they obtained Prestone from a source other than the manufacturer and were not parties to fair trade agreements.

Buffalo Blast Hurts Scores

Railroad Tank Car's Chemicals Blow Up

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A railroad tank car filled with a chemical exploded with a thundering roar today, injuring scores of persons and causing widespread property damage.

Police said that no deaths had yet been reported.

The blast, heard for miles, plowed a huge crater in a railroad right-of-way and severely damaged houses in the immediate area.

The car was on tracks of the Niagara Junction Railroad, a service line owned by trunk railroads coming into this heavily industrialized city.

Hospitals reported a steady parade of emergency cases but no serious injuries.

Several pupils in Hyde Park Elementary School were reported cut by flying glass. Other schools also reported broken windows from the blast.

THE EXPLOSION occurred shortly after 9:30 a. m. in the Porter avenue section near the northeast city line. Police reported electric and telephone service in the area disrupted by the blast.

Smashed windows and broken plaster were reported from residents of an area nearly five miles in radius.

The chemical in the tank car was not identified.

Ag Industry Sets Pace for Productivity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture is outstripping the remainder of the American economy in increasing its productivity.

Government studies show that during the last 10 years, agriculture increased its productivity an average of 6 per cent a year.

The rate of increase for the remainder of the economy was only 2.8 per cent a year. The rate for manufacturing was 3.2 per cent and for the non-manufacturing activities, 2.6 per cent.

On a paid man-hour basis, agriculture's production in 1957 was nearly 84 per cent higher than in 1947 compared with about 29 per cent for non-agricultural activities.

Another government report says that the poorer quality of this season's corn crop is being reflected in market receipts.

The Agriculture Department reported today that only 5 per cent of the 1957-crop corn received at major markets in December graded No. 1. Normally 10 per cent of the December receipts grade No. 1.

Likewise, only 44 per cent of the December receipts graded No. 3 or better compared with 61 per cent. Much of the 1957-crop corn is of high moisture content, reflecting unfavorable weather during the harvest and post-harvest season.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has approved the use of specified amounts of penicillin in block salt and mixed feeds as an aid for prevention and control of blood in livestock.

2 Youths Accused After Capture by FBI

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Connecticut youths, Richard Hartranft, 20, of Bloomfield, and John Messina, 17, of Hartford, were charged Tuesday by the FBI with interstate transportation of a stolen auto.

The youths, trapped earlier in a roadblock near the Illinois-Indiana state line, admitted to the FBI the theft in Hartford of Hartranft's father's auto, the robbery of $50 there, $8 at knife point from a Chinese launderer in Toledo, Ohio, the theft of an auto in Swanton, Ohio, and a $60 robbery in Hartford, Ind.

Probers Taking Look At 'Attack Strategy'

Arson Suspected In Hotel Fire At Mt. Sterling

Building Owner Here Says He Is 'Certain' And Gives Reasons

G. I. Williams of Washington C. H., owner of the flame-gutted Hotel Tenny in Mt. Sterling, said Wednesday he feels "certain" an arsonist set the $70,000 fire which destroyed his business building early Tuesday.

"I don't see how it could be anything else, and I'm going to ask for an investigation," Williams said.

The Fayette County businessman, who also owns the Colony Club on the CCC Highway, west, added, however, that he had "no idea who would have done such a thing."

Williams said his sister, Mrs. Sarah Willis, who ran a variety store in the burned building, heard someone walking around in the hallway shortly before the fire broke out.

SHE WAS AROUSED from her bed when she heard glass breaking, and went into the hallway to discover two fires—about 70 feet apart—William said.

She was barely able to waken the three other hotel residents and telephone for help before smoke drove her from the building. She saved nothing but the nightclothes she was wearing when she went out into the cold pre-dawn rain.

William said he carried only $25,000 worth of insurance on the building and its contents, and that it would cost "at least $70,000 to replace them."

Firemen from Harrisburg, Franklin Township and Mt. Sterling fought the blaze for more than four hours before it was brought under control. Mt. Sterling firemen were called out again about 2 a. m. Wednesday when the blaze rekindled itself.

MRS. WILLIS said she felt reasonably certain the fire was not set by any of the hotel occupants. She said she heard the front door close just moments before the sound of breaking glass, her brother said.

One of the two fires she discovered was in a store room which had not been opened for several months, Mrs. Willis said. The other was on an open section of floor 70 feet away at the front of the hotel corridor.

The state fire marshal's office in Columbus conducted preliminary investigations Tuesday. Mt. Sterling Mayor Max Chenoweth said he delayed further investigation until he could contact Williams.

U. S. Brands Soviet Attack On Baghdad Pact as 'False'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today denounced as totally false a Soviet charge that Secretary of State Dulles is going to the Middle East to force U. S. missiles bases on the Baghdad Pact nations.

It branded as "incredibly arrogant" a Soviet declaration that the placement of nuclear and rocket bases in the Muslim states would be an insult to their religion.

This Soviet propaganda thrust, the United States suggested, amounts to an argument that the Muslim nations should be militarily inferior to the "atheistic system" of the Soviets who already have nuclear missiles.

Dulles will visit Tehran at the end of this week, then go on to Ankara, Turkey for a meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations' foreign ministers next week. His aim is to give fresh assurance of American support for the pact members' resistance to Soviet pressure and Communist penetration.

A FORMAL statement from the State Department replied today to the Soviet blast.

News of World in Brief

Venezuelan City Under Curfew

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A dusk-to-dawn curfew was in effect in Caracas today and government troops were ordered to fire on anyone disturbing the peace after an outbreak of rioting during a general strike.

Reports reaching Washington said 20 persons were killed and 100 injured in street fighting in a workers' area of Caracas Tuesday. They said 1,000 persons were arrested after the clash. Strict censorship prevailed.

The U. S. State Department said there were no reports of any Americans being injured or American property damaged. About 40,000 Americans live in Venezuela and U. S. investments there total about $3 billion.

The strike was called by underground opponents of President Marcos Perez Jimenez, who three weeks ago survived a short-lived revolt by the Air Force and some Army units. Since then Caracas has been in a continual state of tension.

Business in downtown Caracas began closing about noon and crowds gathered in the city's main square. Heavily armed police used tear gas to clear the square after the crowds taunted them with anti-government slogans and stoned buses.

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's Conservative government Tuesday night easily defeated two no confidence motions that never had been expected to pass.

A motion of the small Socialist Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (CCF) lost 221-24. A demand by the Liberal party that the Conservatives hand over the government without an election was turned back 150-95.

HONG KONG (AP)—The chief justice of a Manchurian Supreme Court has accused the Chinese Communists of wrongfully punishing innocent people. Organized pressure forced him to back down on the charge.

Judge Pao Ting-ken of the court in Kirin said according to the Peiping Peoples Daily, the judiciary was in constant strife and prisoners were executed or released according to personal likes and dislikes.

PARIS (AP)—The upward march of prices in France hit coffins today. The government approved a 15 per cent increase on all models to match recent increases in raw materials and salaries.

Defense Chief May Testify

Top-Secret Report Back of New Query

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy may be questioned by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee today about a top-secret report that called for a "military attack strategy" to offset Russian power.

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) brought the subject into a public hearing briefly Tuesday by quoting from the report and asking a comment on it by retired Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, then testifying.

Nimitz made it clear in reply that he was opposed to "the idea of preventive war."

Johnson quickly agreed and said the committee also was opposed to it.

Nimitz said in reply to questions that he "seriously doubts" there will be another world war. He said "people the world over are tired of war," and expressed hope that internal improvements in Russia will lessen the danger of war.

THE QUOTED portion of the report made no mention of preventive war, and the reference to attack strategy apparently emphasized strategic planning and capability rather than direct attack.

Some U. S. military leaders have come near to suggesting that this nation should not permit Russia to decide when and where a future war should begin. But basic defense policy of the United States has been that the nation will defend but never start a war.

Without identifying the source, Johnson read from a bulky volume these recommendations:

"The United States must combine its defensive deterrent strategy with a military attack strategy that reduces the Soviets' strength well below that of the free world and then persuade the Soviets to accept the role of a peaceful, though strong, nation in a world of free nations."

FBI Grabs 6 In Hamilton In Bank Theft

HAMILTON (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today arrested three brothers wanted in connection with the $19,000 robbery of the Bank of Columbia, Ala., on Jan. 17, and took three other persons into custody as accessories after the fact.

Two of the men are escapees from the Florida State Penitentiary at Raiford, Fla.

Nearly all of the $19,000 was found either in the men's rooms or in their automobiles, Ed Mason, special agent in charge of the FBI in Cincinnati, reported.

Taken into custody were: John Anglin, 27, Ruskin, Fla., charged with bank robbery.

Robert Anglin, 22, Tampa, Fla., and Clarence Anglin, 26, Ruskin, escapes from the Florida State Penitentiary and charged with unlawful flight from Florida to escape confinement.

Helen Taylor McIntosh, 32, Tampa, girl friend of John Anglin; Fern Taylor, about 60, of Hamilton, father of Mrs. McIntosh and Janet Anglin, wife of Robert Anglin, all charged with being accessories after the fact.

The six persons will be taken to Cincinnati, where they will be arraigned later today before U. S. Commissioner Graham P. Hunt.

U. S. Science Policy Labeled 'Silly'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A scientific leader today described some U. S. restrictions on visiting Red scientists as "silly little international spibballs."

Dr. Warren Weaver, vice president of the Rockefeller Foundation, said the United States has a "queer and unbelievable" policy on such visits that makes the nation look ridiculous.

In saying U. S. policy hurts needed exchange of scientific data, Weaver said a Russian can visit Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass., with its vast store of important scientific activities, but cannot go to the Harvard Medical School "because that is across the line in Boston and Boston has been ruled out of bounds."

Dawn Snowfall Slows Traffic; Causes Mishaps

Man in Hurry To Pension Office Lands in Court

An 80-year-old man who said he was "in a hurry to get to the pension office" drew a $10 fine for reckless driving after a Wednesday morning auto wreck here.

It was one of three wrecks reported to police in the wake of the early-morning snowfall.

Municipal Judge Max G. Dice also ordered the man, Eben L. Thomas, of Route 38 near Bloomingburg, to undergo an examination of his driving ability, pending a possible license revocation.

Thomas was headed west on Columbus Ave. about 8 a. m. when he tried to pass a car driven by Robert E. Forrest, 36, of Sabina. His car skidded out of control and hit Forrest's auto sending it spinning around in a semi-circle. Damage was moderate.

PALPH VULCANO, 48, Nashville truck driver, told police he would assume responsibility for an accident which occurred about 8:30 a. m. when his idling truck started to coast backward out of a gas station entrance on W. Court St.

Miss Carole J. Clark, 18, of New Holland, driver of a car coming from behind, said she braked to avoid hitting the truck, but skidded into it instead.

Ethel Marshall, 62, of 801 Willard St., said the motor on her car died while she was turning from N. North St. onto Market St. and kept her from pulling out of the way of a collision.

Erma Matson, 47, of 414 Earl Ave., going south on North St. braked her car, but skidded into the side of the Marshall auto. The mishap occurred about 7:10 a. m.

Historian-Envoy Dies at Age 79

NEW YORK (AP)—Claude G. Bowers, historian and diplomat, died Tuesday night at his home in Manhattan. He was 79.

Bowers was ambassador to Spain from 1933 to 1939. He resigned from the post when the United States recognized Franco.

Subsequently, Bowers was named ambassador to Chile and he remained as the American envoy to the South American country until 1953, when the Eisenhower administration took office.

Many of Bowers' historical and the period of Thomas Jefferson, biographical writing dealt with the period of Thomas Jefferson, and he was considered a leading authority on Jefferson.

Judge Brubaker To Speak to FOP

Juvenile Judge Robert L. Brubaker will speak at a joint meeting of the Fraternal Order of Police and the associate organization in the lodge hall at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

A total of 99 charter members are on the books of the newly-formed associate lodge, officers said, and added "more applications have still to be screened."

There are 22 members in the FOP lodge itself. Police Patrolman Herschel Taylor is president.

Light refreshments will be served at the Thursday meeting.

Business Promotion Cutback Said Unwise

CINCINNATI (AP)—The editor in chief of "The Iron Age," a steel industry journal, says he thinks American business will pull out of a current recession "within the next five to six months."

Tom Campbell told members of the Cincinnati Industrial Advertisers Tuesday that he figures defense spending and an expected end to inventory cutting will help halt the downward trend.

He said he thinks "unwise whitening down of advertising budgets and promotional programs will do far more harm than good."

Dumping Garbage On Highway Brings Fine and Pick-up

Municipal Judge Max G. Dice made the punishment fit the crime Wednesday morning.

He ordered Charles L. Daugherty, 34, of 123 E. Paint St., and his brother, Raymond, 27, of Greenfield, to pick up garbage they threw out on Old Springfield Rd. Tuesday.

Raymond pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully disposing garbage, and Charles to a charge of "aiding and abetting the unlawful disposal of garbage." The former was fined $20 and the latter, $10.

Half of Raymond's fine and all of Charles' were to be suspended, providing they cleaned up after themselves.

Temperatures will average 1 to 6 degrees below normal. Normal high 37 north, 41 south, normal low 20-24. Cold and below normal throughout period. Snow and rain is likely throughout the state about Saturday and occasional snow flurries near Lake Erie throughout period.

Publisher Honored for Race Policy

TOLEDO (AP)—For sticking to his policy against racial identification during a period of race tension here, publisher Paul Block Jr. Tuesday night received the annual public service award of the North-western Ohio Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

Block, publisher of the Toledo Blade, holds that criminal deeds are products of sick minds and environment, not of race. On that premise, he forbids racial identification of criminals and suspected criminals in his newspaper.

The policy was put to a severe test last fall when within three days a 17-year-old minister's daughter and a 27-year-old nurse reported they had been attacked by Negroes.

In the wake of these and other reported incidents, racial prejudice mounted and some segments of the public complained about the Blade's refusal to use racial identification.

Then, several days later, the Blade published a story which it considered vindication of its stand. Both the girl and the nurse had admitted to police that their accounts of attacks were hoaxes.

In presenting the award Tuesday night, the professional journalism fraternity credited Block's policy with "having minimized" racial tension after suspects were "identified by rumor and in news broadcasts as Negroes."

Only about 36,000 farmers, or 5 per cent of Canada's farm population, had enough income in 1955 to pay income tax.

8 Slot Machines Slated for Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Eight slot machines go on trial Monday for being used for gambling.

First Asst. County Atty. Sal Pinto sued the machines under a statute which says if a jury finds the machines "were used or intended to be used for the purpose of gambling, they shall be condemned and forfeited."

Asked if the machines had employed counsel, Pinto replied: "Rather than take advantage of the machines, I have brought in the owners to represent the machines."

Two Veterans of Foreign Wars posts were named co-defendants.

Basso Stalks Off Rome's Opera Stage

ROME (AP)—Another singer has walked out on the Rome opera season, this time a basso who got in a spat with a tenor.

The latest "Callas" was pulled by Boris Christoff, known in America for his performances as Boris Godunov.

Sources at the opera house said he stalked off the stage during a rehearsal Monday night of Verdi's "Don Carlos" after a heated argument with tenor Franco Corelli.

The issue reportedly was who should have the more prominent place on the stage.

Tuesday night basso Mario Petri took over Christoff's role at the dress rehearsal. The opera sources said Christoff wouldn't sing unless the opera management apologized to him. The managers reportedly answered they owed no apologies, that the fuss was a personal matter between the two singers.

The first walkout of the Rome season was staged by soprano Maria Callas, who broke up the opening night performance of Bellini's "Norma" after the first act.

6 Law Officers Here At Firearms School

Six Fayette County law officers attended a firearms school in Chillicothe Tuesday night, sponsored by the Ross County Sheriff's Department.

Attending were Police Capt. Charles Foster, Sgt. Virgil Harris, Patrolman Rodman Scott and Robert Massie of Washington C. H. Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays and Special Deputy Ray Anderson of Fayette County.

It was the second session of the school. Instructors were Federal Bureau of Investigation agents of the southern Ohio district.

Training sessions on a firing range will be held as soon as warm weather comes.

News Briefs

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A Soviet trade representative today offered Asian nations long-term trade agreements in all basic commodities.

V. P. Migunov, Russian trade representative in India, made the offer to a trade committee of the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East. Delegates from every country in Asia except Red China are meeting here through next Monday.

One delegate said later he doubted most nations would be interested in the Russian offer because of Burma's ill-fated barter deals with the Soviet bloc two years ago.

Burma traded large stocks of rice and received some supplies, such as cement, in quantities that she could not use. Then the Soviet Union sold some of the rice at cut rates in Burma's normal markets, depriving the country of regular trade.

VIENNA (AP)—Hungary's Communist regime acknowledged today that some Hungarian students are still demanding the withdrawal of Russian troops from their country.

Withdrawal of the Russian troops was the chief demand of the students and workers who sparked the Hungarian revolt 15 months ago.

Only about 36,000 farmers, or 5 per cent of Canada's farm population, had enough income in 1955 to pay income tax.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Glenn Frazell
Mrs. Stella M. Frazell, 83, a native of Fayette County, died in Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, Fla., at 11 p. m. Sunday, according to word just received by relatives here. She had been in failing health for a year.

Mrs. Frazell, the former Stella Tobir, was born in western Fayette County and lived for a time in Jeffersonville before her marriage. She has lived in Miami for about 30 years.

Her husband, Glenn Frazell, died in Miami in 1953. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Armelda Cory of Washington C. H. and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Plummer Funeral Home in Miami. Cremation followed.

Warren M. Arthur
NEW HOLLAND — Warren M. Arthur, 79, a former mayor of New Holland, died in a Columbus hospital at 5 a. m. Wednesday following a six-month illness. He had been in the hospital two weeks.

Mr. Arthur was born in Springfield, but came to New Holland in 1930 as an implement salesman and serviceman. He was with the French Hardware Store and later with White Hardware Store after the change of ownership.

He lost his eyesight in 1945 and was forced to retire.

Mr. Arthur, widely known throughout the New Holland community, was mayor of the village for three terms, starting about 1936.

He was a 50-year member of the Masonic Lodge. He was one of the charter members of the lodge in Cedarville and was a member of the lodge in New Holland at the time of his death.

He was a member of the New Holland Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Antoinette; a step-daughter, Mrs. Norma Lawrence of Columbus; two grandchildren; a sister, Miss Eva Arthur of Springfield and two brothers, Stewart Arthur of Springfield and Dr. John Arthur of Dayton.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland by the Rev. Glenn Robinson, pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial will be in the South Charleston Cemetery.

Palbearers, who also cared for the flowers, were Clifford Sidders, George Lowe, George Christiansen, Charles Foy, Edward Blanton and Pete Holden.

Burial was in Washington Cemetery.

Florida Water Spout Narrowly Misses Cop

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A water spout came ashore near here as a miniature tornado Tuesday and brought small havoc to a trailer camp. No one was injured.

The sudden storm narrowly missed Police Chief Bob Blair as he chased a speeding motorist.

Watchers saw the storm strike the highway just after Blair passed. The officer said later he caught the motorist.

Machineguns, Rockets Tested on 'Copters

FT. RUCKER, Ala. (AP)—Army helicopters armed with machineguns and rockets displayed new-found combat ability in a demonstration here Tuesday.

Military and Pentagon officials watched the display.

The use of weapons on helicopters is still in the experimental stage and a variety of armament systems are to be mounted for tests, military officials said.

Stocks Rally, Then Return Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street greeted the latest credit-easing moves with a short burst of enthusiasm today, then the stock market lapsed into irregularity. Trading was quiet early this afternoon.

Key stocks showed a mixture of gains and losses running from fractions to around a point.

The market was slightly higher following overnight news that the discount rate had been cut to 2 1/4 per cent from 3 per cent for the Philadelphia federal reserve bank and that leading banks had reduced their prime lending rate to 4 per cent from 4 1/2 per cent.

The drop in the discount rate, accompanied by its logical sequence of a lower prime rate, has been among the credit-easing moves that financial quarters have predicted and urged for some time.

Utilities, tobaccos, distillers, chemicals, rubbers and radio-televvisions were generally higher. Oils, nonferrous metals, farm implements, aircrafts and motors showed a lower tendency. Steels and rails were mixed.

Fractional gains were made by Liggett & Myers, Lorillard, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, Union Carbide, United Air Lines, National Distillers and U. S. Gypsum.

Slightly lower were Youngstown Sheet, Caterpillar, Boeing, Phelps Dodge, American Cyanamid and International Nickel.

U. S. government bonds improved.

Bill Collector Being Sued For $10,000

LORAIN (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Petrosky has filed suit for $10,000 against a bill collector she says harassed her over a $100 debt.

The suit said Howard D. Sloan, Lorain collection agency operator, had harassed Mrs. Petrosky with five demand notices, numerous threatening letters, 15 telephone calls and threat of garnish proceedings against her husband's employer.

The result, said Mrs. Petrosky in her suit, was that she was made nervous, suffered headaches and knots in her stomach and found her home life upset.

She asked that Sloan and the M. O'Neil Co., to whom she owed the money, be enjoined from further harassment and that she be awarded $10,000 for her suffering.

She asked also that the defendants be ordered to "sue and collect by legal means and case acts which destroy the privacy of the plaintiff."

U. S. Recession Clouded by Pair Of Problems

Continuing Price
Rise, Labor Talks,
Dominate Picture

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's warning that if the price-wage spiral zooms recovery from the recession could be slowed or even prevented points up two of today's worrisome problems:

1. Widespread wonderment that prices can continue to rise or even be maintained when factory sales are falling and production being cut back.

2. The long list of labor contracts to be hammered out this year, largely on the touchy issue of further wage hikes during a recession.

Of the first, businessmen point out that many of today's price rises, especially at retail, are of the delayed action kind and due to rising costs all along the line over past months.

And prices on some primary industrial materials have been falling along with output. In other cases prices have been maintained by cutting back production until inventories are trimmed. In still others the reason given for rising prices in a declining market is that higher operating costs make them necessary if the company is to break even and thus survive.

Business leaders argue that there must be profits if there is to be production — and, therefore, jobs.

The battle over profits and wages and prices doubtless will get hotter as the year goes on.

It has been set off already by the auto workers demands, including a profit sharing scheme. The auto industry's contracts with 655,000 workers expire in May.

Contracts involving the pay of more than 1½ million workers come up for negotiations this year.

John L. Lewis can call for talks on the coal miners contract any time on 60 day notice.

Dress makers contracts expire this month.

The aircraft industry will start its wage talks in March, along with a few electrical companies. In April cotton, rayon, woolen and worsted workers will present demands. May will see Western Union, and some machinery, and paper manufacturers negotiating.

Farm equipment companies negotiate in July and August. Longshoremen in the New York area and along the Pacific Coast also have contracts expiring in August.

Glass workers' contracts expire in September.

Added to these negotiations on wages are a long list of automatic raises this year, decreed in contracts signed in the past.

Some 500,000 steel workers get a 7 to 13 cents an hour hike in July. About 80,000 railroad workers wait till November for 7 cent boost.

And if the cost of living rises high enough wages will go up for many other workers.

That is why the President is concerned and why many businessmen look with a worried mien at their profit and loss prospects.

11th Person Linked To Swindle Probe

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Eleven persons have been charged in connection with an alleged insurance claim swindle ring which authorities say was headed by Councilman John J. Tobin Jr.

Courts

DIVORCE SUIT FILED

Sha Donnas Scott, Washington C. H., has brought suit for divorce from Gerald A. Scott in Common Pleas Court, charging gross neglect and extreme cruelty. Married May 2, 1949, at Riceville, Ky., they have three minor children.

Mrs. Scott asks that the court restrain her husband from interfering with her or the children and that he be restrained from attempting to dispose of his interest in real estate at 134 Laurel Rd. which the plaintiff asks as alimony along with its furnishings. She also seeks custody of the children and asks the court to require her husband to pay off the mortgage on the home.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Cyrena I. Cave, Route 1, Jeffersonville, has filed suit for divorce from George Cave whom she married Sept. 9, 1926, at Greenup, Ky. Mrs. Cave, who charges neglect and cruelty, alleges that she is under a doctor's care and is without funds for support and prosecution of the action.

She asks temporary and permanent alimony as well as expenses. There are no minor children.

DIVORCED GRANTED

Robert W. Wilt, Milledgeville, was granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Sandra Jean Wilt, Perdue Plaza, city, a minor, on grounds of neglect and cruelty. She was awarded custody of the minor child and he was awarded the household goods. They were married March 6, 1956, in Liberty, Ind.

REV. E. VERNON HARRIS

Adventist Church Has New Pastor

Rev. E. Vernon Harris
To Hold Services Here

The Rev. E. Vernon Harris has returned to the pulpit of the Seventh-day Adventist Church here after an absence of two years.

He served the little church on Broadway as its pastor from 1953 to 1955 while also serving the church in Chillicothe and Jackson at the same time.

He succeeds the Rev. Charles P. Shobe, who has been transferred to the church in Ashtabula.

When the Rev. Mr. Shobe left for his new pastorate last month, the Rev. Mr. Harris was invited to return here.

He will continue to reside in Chillicothe and serve the church there and in Jackson. He will conduct worship services in the church here at 3 p. m. every Saturday and in the morning on alternating Saturdays in Chillicothe and Jackson. Sabbath school will be held here at 1:30 p. m. every Saturday.

He also will come here every Tuesday evening for prayer meeting.

THE CHURCH here now has a membership of 27. In addition to the Saturday worship services and Tuesday prayer meetings, it has a Dorcas Society for the women members. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month, either in the church or the homes of the members, depending on the program and nature of business to be considered.

The Rev. Mr. Harris, a native of Idaho, received his religious education in two Seventh-day Adventist schools, Walla Walla College in Walla Walla, Wash., and Washington Missionary College in Washington, D. C.

Since coming to Ohio in 1950, the Rev. Mr. Harris has held pas-

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A 10½-year-old girl gave birth to a seven-pound son Tuesday.

County Juvenile Officer Muriel Wright said the boy was born in a Roman Catholic hospital in San Francisco.

A 28-year-old laborer and relative of the girl by marriage, Harold Lee, faces trial March 4 on charges of lewd conduct with the child. He denies her accusation that he is the father.

Shocknessy Hinting Race for Governor

COLUMBUS (AP)—James Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, says he is thinking about running for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Earlier this month Shocknessy said he favored former U. S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland as a candidate for governor. The turnpike commissioner said, however, that he might enter the race if Burke decided not to run. Burke later withdrew.

Toledo Chief Raps O'Neill's Cleanup Claim

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo Safety Director George Gray says Gov. C. William O'Neill is giving the state too much credit for cleaning up gambling here. Gray also claims the Toledo gambling problem was exaggerated.

O'Neill, reporting on 1957 accomplishments of his administration, declared that "big-time gambling operations have been padlocked and smashed in Lucas, Stark, Mahoning and Logan counties and in the city of Toledo."

Gray said he has written the governor a demand for a public retraction.

"I fail to see how you can be very proud when you attempt to place Toledo in the category of commercial gamblers on a one-shot padlock case, and two convictions were obtained prior to the state requesting the padlock," he wrote.

Gray said whenever gamblers have tried to set up operations here, "constant harassment" from Toledo police has thwarted them.

"There is much resentment that you have seen fit to name the city of Toledo as the only city in our state having big-time gambling operations, which is not true, and if properly investigated

Defendant Collapses; Death Trial Delayed

CANTON (AP)—Because of the collapse of the 70-year-old defendant, a first-degree murder trial has been interrupted.

The defendant, Sam Smegadis of Canton, is recovering in Mercy Hospital after collapsing of coronary insufficiency. The trial is to resume Thursday.

Smegadis is charged with fatally shooting Nick Kinios, 71, last May 28. Police said the shooting in a coffee house stemmed from a feud between the two.

Pen Inmate Claims Sentence Illegal

COLUMBUS (AP)—A Shelby County inmate of Ohio Penitentiary claims he was convicted of a crime that took place while he was in jail in Sidney.

The inmate, Richard Baker, 25, filing a writ of habeas corpus, charges he was "coerced" into changing his plea from innocent to guilty when he went to trial Feb. 18, 1956.

Shelby County Sheriff M. Gearhart had no comment other than to say that Baker's allegations "are completely false", and that he will answer them if called into court.

A Man Talks of His High School Days

These are days of big spending, some of which is needed and some of which probably is open to question, particularly if the government or even local spending comes from demands of bureaucratic holders of either public office or other positions. Education's demands call for a huge part of this spending and the public often is asking if our public schools are doing enough in return.

A few days ago this writer was much interested and impressed by a conversation he had with a citizen of this community, who does little talking in a public way, but is a man who has been reasonably successful in his business and professional life. He is not young but is still active although he is getting close to the age where most people definitely retire. He thinks for himself and is influenced only by facts as he observes them, and he makes it his business to observe for himself rather than allow others to make up his mind for him with specious arguments.

In his talk he said that there is no chestnut more overworked, as a rule, than the one which begins "now when I was a boy." However, he continued with the statement that in his opinion holding fast to lessons of experience and knowing how things worked out in former years, proved a valuable asset to any person attempting to analyze and evaluate new methods, procedures and ideas.

He was speaking particularly of how different things are today in many high schools than they were for the average ninth to twelfth grade youngster in his younger years.

He explained that in his high school time the students were told to choose between a college preparatory course and commercial studies. Those who chose the latter path expected to leave school at the end of the 12th grade and find employment in the work-a-day world. They were enrolled in subjects like typing, bookkeeping and business English.

The others were to be prepared to go on to college. There were no electives until students were juniors, and then selectivity was strictly limited. Most were compelled to take the "hard" courses with heavy emphasis on math, science, history and English. Home ec - vo - ag, driver education and similar courses were unheard of. Students lugged textbooks home and belabored them three or four hours a day outside of the school building.

Normally a majority recited daily in each class, and were graded on each recitation. These grades, plus those earned on frequent tests — which were theme-type rather than the multiple choice or "guessing game" variety — provided monthly grades. Report cards were always based on the number system with 70 as the minimum for passing.

"Shop" and "gym" (as it was called then) were subjects you could take once a week. Band, orchestra, dramatics and athletics were all conducted after school on the students' own time. No academic credit was given.

He said that quite a few students flunked and had to take courses over again. Poor grades invariably resulted in the student being required to stay after school for extra work. There were no special "breaks" for athletes and many of them were dropped from teams for poor grades. Repeated flunking resulted in the individual being dismissed from school or shipped off to a vocational training institution.

Many educators today may scoff at the above, declaring it outmoded and passe. He remarked, and added "Maybe so. But it worked. When and if you graduated from high school, you had a diploma that was worth something. He said he distinctly remembered that he thought college something of a romp after the four years of Latin, three years of science and three or four years of math that he took in high school."

High school, he stated, as he looked back upon it, was mental disciplining for more battles still ahead. The "adjustment to life" idea was almost totally lacking. Either you made it or you didn't. There was little wheedling or babying.

Most people today readily agree that many fine additions have been made to the understanding and training of the adolescent mind since this man's days in school, he declared, and education has become a much more complicated business with more time and effort spent on those who falter along the way.

He asserted, however, that from what he observed, he believed the "hard" high school, with a lot of attention to discipline, had something which is lost to many high schools today.

Not everyone will agree with this man's views, but a growing host of voices are being raised to back his thinking.

Added to this is the opinion being freely expressed by many people that the simplest and surest remedy to stop criticism of present day methods, lies in the home.

Instead of hoping that students can "get by" largely on what some call "s n a p courses" and "interesting extra-curricular" school activities, many students might benefit and more parents feel proud by insisting on their children enrolling in the "hard" courses?

Greater appreciation for development of some of the spartan mental virtues during formative high school years, often will do more than money or social prestige in solving a lot of all our school problems.

Is Bickering Competition?

By George Sokolsky

The theory behind using all sorts of military people and organizations on the same or similar projects, at enormous expense to the taxpayer and without brilliant results, is that there is no monopoly on intelligence and that when men compete against each other, there is an incentive for achievement.

This, of course, is true in private enterprise but in a government service the money incentive can be of little consideration because you get paid whether you work or not; other incentives, service to country, belief in an ideal, desire for honors—these do influence some men.

But when such men find themselves up against the stone wall of regimented stupidity, they most often give up and go into private enterprise where they enjoy both recognition of their abilities and financial rewards.

One man who fought every facet of heavy wit and prejudice in the Navy and who stuck it through against every obstacle is Adm. Hyman Rickover who built the atomic submarine.

He built the atomic submarine ahead of schedule against every objection. He was only permitted to go ahead because old fogies were sure he would fail and then they would get what seemed to them a fanatical nuisance out of the service.

And now that he is the leading naval authority on the subject, the Navy is not using him to develop the nuclear submarine for the Polaris missile. Only dopes would act that way, permitting personal prejudice to interfere with the national interest.

And it is because of such factors that we have fallen behind the Russians in a field where we should be the champions.

Edwin L. Weis, chief special counsel of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee of which Sen. Lyndon Johnson is chairman, asked Adm. Rickover this question:

"Will you tell us in detail the steps that you had to go through in... your organization?"

Adm. Rickover: "... The military organization is not set up to do development work. It is set up mostly to do routine work. So if anyone comes in with a new idea, the people in the organization naturally tend to make him conform to the organization because conformity is prized. There still is too much conformity rather than performance—conformity rather than performance."

"So the first thing that a man has to do is to make up his mind he is going to get his head chopped off ultimately and if he does not have that feeling he will never get things accomplished in the military."

"So when I took this job I knew that if I were going to do it in a proper manner I would naturally displease many people and cause them to be angry with me. My anticipation proved to be quite correct, because we had to do things out of channels in order to get them done."

Cleanliness Vital In Warding Off Flu

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE simple practice of washing your hands frequently may not be as effective a weapon against Asian flu as the new vaccine, but it does offer considerable protection.

Authorities say there are chances of Asian flu outbreaks of epidemic proportions in various sections of the country during the winter months.

Several Precautions Unfortunately, there isn't enough vaccine to go around. Still, if you can't get it, there are several precautions you can take to safeguard your family and yourself.

You should develop the practice of washing your hands frequently. Among other things, it may save you a bout with the Asian flu virus.

Keeping your entire body clean and your clothes both clean and fresh is a standard rule for good health. It becomes especially important, however, when the flu virus is lurking about.

Age-Old Advice

And of course you should follow the age-old advice to keep your body's natural resistance in good shape by eating regular and well-balanced meals and getting enough rest—about eight hours a day.

Just in case you aren't familiar with the symptoms of Asian flu, I think I had better list them here. Actually, they are the same as those of other types of flu: muscular aches and pains, fever, chills, a dry hacking cough and a sore throat.

Weak and Exhausted

Generally, the fever will last between one and five days. Quite often it will leave the patient weak and exhausted.

If you feel any of these symptoms, go to bed promptly. I can't overemphasize the importance of this. Even if your symptoms turn into nothing more than a common cold, the rest in bed will help you get back to your customary routine much faster.

Contact Doctor

If your fever begins to soar, you must contact your doctor right away. It may mean that something more serious than the flu is bothering you.

Remain in bed until your doctor says it is all right to get up. Asian flu or any other type of flu is spread by persons who have the disease. You owe it to your fellow human beings to remain home and take care of yourself. You are a threat to your entire community if you run around spreading the virus to others.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

C. H.: What is intussusception?

Answer: Intussusception is a condition in which one portion of the intestines is telescoped into another portion. This may cause an obstruction to the normal flow of the intestinal contents, causing what is known as a bowel obstruction, with serious symptoms.

Darke County Road Aide's Firing OK'd

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Civil Service Commission Tuesday up held the removal of Hiram Rhoades as maintenance superintendent for the Ohio Department of Highways in Darke County. He had been cited for political activity by acting Highway Director George Thornmyer.

Rhoades was removed from his $460-a-month job last Aug. 22. He was accused of soliciting state highway department employees for campaign funds for the Democratic party before the November, 1956, general election.

The several Farnes Islands (16 acres in area) off the Northumberland coast of England, had only three inhabitants in 1931. Today there are complaints that they are overpopulated.

but even in the industrial organizations. The mere fact that a company is a large one and has a wonderful reputation does not mean that it can really do a large-scale military job.

"There have been too many times in the history of the military and particularly in recent years where a large industrial organization with a great reputation has come in and made statements and promises which have been accepted, and this has not always worked out. I think that it is essential in the performance of large-scale development work in the military as well as in any other branch of the federal government that there be people at headquarters who are at least as capable as those in the industrial organizations, and this was the real secret—am I getting too far afield or shall I go on in this way?"

This critique of governmental organization is at the heart of our problem of falling behind the Russians. The Hoover Commissions dwell on this in most of their reports. A government official often fears that any change, any different method, any reorganization may ultimately leave him out of his little empire which he so painstakingly erected.

The Russians use Communists, anti-Communists, Germans, Italians, anybody and everybody to do their jobs for them, while the President's budget shows that while we are still monkeying around with balanced services, the Russians, who were far behind us as recently as 1945, are out in front now.

Great Leader's Spirit Lives On

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A great leader never quite dies altogether. He lives in a spirit he kindled among those who followed him.

So it is that, in a very real way, William Orlando Darby, founder of the American Rangers in World War II, is still very much alive, although he died two days before that war closed.

"Even after all these years we can't think of him as dead," said Charles Contrera, who served as driver-interpreter for the brilliant young West Pointer from Fort Smith, Ark., whose career was ended at 34 by a German artillery shell on the Italian front.

"To us he was almost like a god. To the men he seemed superhuman. He was wounded three times, but we never really believed he could be killed—he had been through so much."

Hollywood recently "discovered" Col. Darby, an officer many believed was destined to be Army chief of staff, and Warner Brothers has told part of his story in a notable film of battle action called "Darby's Rangers."

Contrera was one of a number of former Rangers who attended a preview of the picture here the other night. Now 38, he rarely fights the war anymore—"except sometimes at night in his sleep," said his wife.

Charlie was one of the first to volunteer when Darby was given the assignment of creating an elite spearhead force for the Army, a force comparable to the U. S. Marines, but smaller.

Contrera landed with the Rangers in Africa, but it wasn't until after the group had stormed the beaches of Sicily that he came to know Darby well.

"He wanted a driver who could also act as an interpreter," Contrera recalled, "and when I told him I could speak a couple of Italian dialects he said, 'Get behind the wheel. Let's go.'"

"The Colonel liked to do his own reconnoitering for his night attacks. When we couldn't go any further by jeep, we'd climb aboard donkeys. And when we got to places in the hills where even the donkeys balked, we'd jump off and go on by foot."

Contrera remembers later in Italy how, day after day, he had to speed his jeep across a 75-yard open area of road swept by machinegun fire.

"The colonel got a kick out of timing the enemy fire and beating it," he said. "We could see the bullets kicking up dust behind us, but nothing ever bothered him. And, somehow, I felt safe with him."

Only one time did Darby ever lose his composure. That was at Cisterna, on the Anzio beachhead, when a German division surrounded and largely destroyed two battalions of Rangers as he was trying to break through to their rescue.

"Don't give up. Infiltrate back," Darby kept pleading into the field phone. "Don't give up! Don't give up! Don't give up!"

"When he was told the men couldn't infiltrate back because they were trapped," said Contrera, "the colonel put his head down on his arm and cried."

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

For 12 years the making of potato chips was big business in Washington C. H., with a peak daily production of 1,000 bags.

Many local residents recall these delicious "Washington Potato Chips," sold here from 1933 to 1945, and produced by J. W. Southard and son, Arthur, at a plant built back of the Southard home, 629 S. Fayette St.

When Southard and Son bought a small potato business from Ralph Gage, who was having difficulty with the chips becoming tough in the type of bags used, they started to make the highest grade product possible and used air-tight bags.

They used corn oil for frying the chips, selected the best grade of potatoes for slicing, fried them quickly, and added a small amount of salt immediately afterward, then bagged and distributed the product over a wide area, extending as far south as the Ohio River.

The superior quality of the Washington potato chips soon won for the producers the bulk of the potato chip trade in the area served, and only one other brand, still on the market, was regarded as a real competitor.

At one time Southard had 23 barrels of corn oil on hand for use in frying the chips, and a quick fry of three minutes at 410 degrees was just right to remove all moisture and leave a minimum amount of oil.

At current prices those 23 barrels of oil, 50 gallons to the barrel, would retail at around $1,840.

When the second World War came on, it was impossible to obtain sufficient corn oil to fry the usual amount of chips, so distribution was made to only a few dealers, and finally was confined to the Southard store on S. Fayette St., where sales frequently reached $100 per week.

Southard, who still keeps active when health permits, and operates a used furniture store in his former potato chip plant, said that usually 100 pounds of potatoes would produce 25 pounds of chips.

"There was plenty of hard work in connection with their manufacture, and many times I have started the day at 3 a. m. in order to get the chips out on time," he recalls.

It required five and sometimes more people to operate the plant when it was running at capacity.

"But there is good money in the business if it is handled right," he declared.

In 1945 when he sold his business to the DanDee Potato Chip Co. (and 35,000 much needed ration coupons went with the business) the DanDee Company operated the plant in Bloomingburg for a month, then moved it to Huntington, W. Va.

ROSE STILL BLOOMING
That cluster of Christmas Roses or black hellebore, at the east side of the Good Hope Post Office building, owned by Walter Free, is still blooming.

At present there are only a few blossoms showing and the scores of earlier bloom have dried up.

This unusual hardy flower started blooming about the middle of November, was at its peak about Dec. 15, still had dozens of blossoms over Christmas, and will show blossoms for the next two or three weeks.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Charles J. Schwart was state winner of the Prince of Peace contest sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Richard Kruger, 22, Dayton salesman, was killed by falling brick when a miniature tornado toppled the outer wall of the McFadden building, Court and North Sts., and crushed him as he sat in his car on North St. The violent windstorm did considerable damage.

Strawberries from Florida were selling in the local market at $1 per quart.

Washington C. H. firemen took a pumper to Hillsboro where they assisted in extinguishing a $300,000 fire which wiped out the block north of the courthouse.

Common Pleas Court was asked to decide whether Charles Halterman died before his wife, when they were murdered at their farm home at Blessing's Crossing, Jefferson Township by Leo Halterman who was later executed.

The Corn and Grain Show held here attracted record-breaking crowd on last day.

The Farmers Institute held at Conner School was well attended.

Eastern Star members from Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg, New Eolland and this city attended a district meeting here. Attendance set new high mark.

Erie Railroad Aide Cites Rate Needs

COLUMBUS, Pa.—The research chief of the Erie Railroad has told the Utilities Commission railroads hauling freight in Ohio need a rate increase to meet rising costs.

Eugene S. Root of Cleveland said 1957 income of the railroad was "disappointing." He said the net operating income will approximate $280 million, a return on net investment of 3.4 per cent.

"There have been lower rates in only two years in the past decade, the recession years of 1949 and 1954," Root said.

DIP INTO THE PAST—Modern automobile dealers at the 41st annual convention of the National Automobile Dealers Assoc., in Miami Beach dipped 50 years into the past (and counted their blessings) with this shiny 1908 Sears, "motoring" sedately through the ultra-modern Eden Roc Hotel. Traveling companions here are Mrs. Marian Ward, and her father Ray Brandenburg, owner of the R. Brandenburg Motor Sales, Buick-Chevrolet dealership in Washington C. H.

O'Neill Seeking To Avoid Special Assembly Session

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.P.)—Gov. C. William O'Neill and aides who served with him when he was attorney general are combing the law on appointments to avoid a special session of the Legislature.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said he has urged the governor to call an extraordinary session to "clear the air of doubts over appointments to three posts requiring confirmation by the Ohio Senate."

The posts are director of highways and director of mental health and corrections, both of cabinet status, and Ohio State University trustee.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes asked Saxbe to rule on the appointment questions. Rhodes said he acted to avoid possible court action against him for illegal payment of salaries and expenses.

Saxbe indicated it may be some time before he issues his rulings despite reports that they are about ready. The governor declined comment until after he received the formal opinions. He said he had no present plans for a special session and expressed belief that things could be "worked out."

Attorneys said statute provides that, if the posts in question are vacant during a legislative session, the governor must make appointments and send them "forthwith" to the Senate for confirmation.

During the last session, O'Neill made Charles M. Noble, former New Jersey turnpike engineer, his secretary in charge of highways at $30,000 a year. Noble was ineligible for appointment as highway director because he had not lived in Ohio a full year to qualify as an elector. His year was up last Jan. 14.

During that time, George J. Thormyer served as acting highway director. A suit pending in Franklin County Common Pleas Court challenges the right of Thormyer to fire a highway department employee unless he actually is the director.

Rhodes asked Saxbe to say whether the governor, by failing to appoint a highway director during the legislative session, can now appoint Noble to that post or whether Thormyer actually holds it.

Also involved is the question of whether the Legislature legally can "appropriate money to pay Noble's salary as highway secretary when no such job is provided by the law that prescribes gubernatorial appointments.

A similar question is involved in the recent appointment of Dr. Robert A. Haines, former head of Longview State Hospital in Cincinnati, as state mental health director. Dr. Earl C. Albrecht served as acting director from 1956 until Haines took over. No appointment was sent to the Senate.

The third post is held by Forest G. Ketner of Columbus as OSU trustee. He was appointed by former Gov. Frank J. Lausche but a special session of the Legislature in 1956 failed to confirm him. He was reappointed by O'Neill but failed to receive confirmation during the regular session.

Attorneys said a ruling by the attorney general in 1923 requires appointment of another person under such circumstances

Garden Club Meets In Lough Home

The Marilee Garden Club members gathered in the home of Mrs. Wash Lough for their January meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Lanum, president, opened the meeting by reading a poem entitled "New Year." Mrs. Glenn Smith read the secretary's and treasurer's report.

The club voted to buy the book "Gourds in Folk Literature" and present it to the Carnegie Library. They also voted to present the book "Wild Flowers," by McMillan, to the Good Hope School; this will take the place of tree planting as an Arbor Day project.

Mrs. Herbert Rothrock reported that she had been taking flower arrangements to the Frankfort School for special occasions.

Mrs. Lanum read a letter from Mrs. Cox, regional director, about a Valentine meeting to be held in Morrow at 9:30 a. m. on Feb. 14.

Mrs. Rothrock presented the program on gourds and also read the legend of the sand dollar.

She described several kinds of gourds, one being the Crown of Thomas which would sell for $100 if perfect. To be perfect, she said, it had to have 10 crowns. The seeds of this gourd sell for $1 each she said.

Mrs. Rothrock stated that the origin of gourds goes back as far as 400 B. C. There were so many uses for gourds in olden times, she said, our grandmothers used them for dippers, the cave men used them for clubs, the Turk's cap gourd was used in art, Cheater gourd was used for hens' nest eggs, and the Sponge gourd is now found in Cuba and Florida and used to make sponges by peeling off the outer covering.

Mrs. Rothrock also displayed several arrangements in different kinds of gourds. These were taken to the library.

Mrs. Lough, assisted by Mrs. O. C. Kibler, served delicious refreshments.

Horneys Observe 58th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Bloomingburg, honored Mrs. Thompson's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Horney, on their 58th wedding anniversary, with an open house Sunday afternoon.

The table was decorated with lighted white candles and centered with a beautiful arrangement of white mums.

Mrs. Kenneth Horney, Mr. and Mrs. Horney's daughter-in-law, presided over the punch bowl. Also served were individual wedding cakes, gaily decorated with a pink and white motif.

Mr. and Mrs. Horney thanked everyone graciously for the many lovely gifts they received.

Among the approximately 60 guests attending were Mr. Thompson's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Thompson, and Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ferguson.

Out-of-town guests were from Columbus, Jeffersonville, Washington C. H., Highland, Milledgeville, Good Hope, Grove City, Dayton, Mt. Sterling and Reading, Mich.

Miss Briggs Hostess To Missionary Circle

The Mayme Rogers Missionary Circle of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Miss Mabel Briggs Tuesday night with 11 members and one guest, Miss Ida Hyer, present.

Mrs. Robert Lambert, chairman, opened the meeting by reading an article entitled "The New Year." Devotions were led by Mrs. Ernest Shelton, who read the Scripture and a poem "Take Time." She closed with prayer.

The members made individual fruit trays for the patients in the Green Acres Rest Home in Buena Vista. The trays are to be delivered to the rest home on Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Hurtt presented the program on Japan. She described the living conditions of the people in Japan, their homes and their Christian way of life.

The meeting was closed with a circle of prayer.

Miss Briggs served tempting refreshments.

A note was read from the Fayette County Council for Retarded Children, thanking the club for its donation.

Mrs. Eldon Bethards discussed details connected with making hats and purses, and also announced that a hat making session will be held Jan. 28 in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Mrs. Carter, assisted by Mrs. Wesley Thatcher, served tempting refreshments to Mrs. Worley Melvin, Mrs. Edward Jenkins, Mrs. Fryer, Mrs. Joe Bonham, Mrs. Harold Mathews, Miss Donna Mathews, Mrs. Bethards, Mrs. Willard Bonham, and Mrs. Carter's mother and sister, Mrs. Leo Cummings and Mrs. Willard Sears.

Wesleyan Guild Enjoys Dinner

A delicious potluck supper was enjoyed by the Wesleyan Service Guild of Grace Methodist Church in Fellowship Hall Monday night. The business session which followed was conducted by Miss Edith Wilson, president of the guild. Mrs. Edythe Craig was in charge of the devotions.

Miss Gretchen R. Darlington, program coordinator, introduced Mrs. Dwight Nelson, who gave a very interesting and educational talk on Japan. Mrs. Nelson displayed several paintings and various articles made by the Japanese.

The social committee for the evening consisted of Mrs. George Stitt, chairman, Miss Ethel Arnold, Mrs. Nona Feagans, Mrs. Robert Ferguson, Mrs. Ray Griffith, Miss Helen Slavens and Mrs. Charles Wagner.

Sorority Dance Set for Feb. 1

Ohio Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met in the home of Mrs. Harry Fichthorn Monday night.

Mrs. Fichthorn, president, opened the meeting in ritualistic form, after which reports were given by Mrs. Robert Hackmeyer and Mrs. William Lawyer.

During the business session plans were completed for the sorority dance to be held Feb. 1 in the Country Club from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. The dance is for all members and their invited guests.

Mrs. Rodney Sheline, cultural program leader, used as her topic "Nature's Landscape," discussing the prints of Currier and Ives, which were the first produced by the method known as lithography. These prints were very colorful and depicted all phases of American life.

A social hour followed, during which tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Fichthorn, assisted by Miss Martha Hughes.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Joseph Rush on Feb. 3.

Dover School Chief Resigns Position

DOVER (U.P.)—D. C. Lemmon has resigned as superintendent of Dover public school, a post he's held for 11 years.

Lemmon, 52, had been in the city school system here for 30 years and was high school principal for 11 years prior to becoming superintendent.

One reason for his resignation, Lemmon said, was voters' rejection for a second time last November of a construction bond issue.

He said he had offers from "several other" school systems.

Take All Advantages Due; Your Status Affects Rate

Editor's Note: Advantages of the various classes of returns are listed in this third article in an eight-part series on your income tax. Exemptions, non-taxable income, deductions and other topics will be dealt with later. Clip out all the articles for use when you file your return.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

We've seen how you can save money by picking the right form on which to file your income tax return. In the same way, you can save money by correctly choosing the taxpayer class into which you fall.

Basically there are four classes of returns:

1. The separate return.
2. The joint return.
3. The special joint return for certain recent widows and widowers.

4. The special "head of household" return for certain single persons or those legally separated from their husband or wife.

The separate return is for single taxpayers who prefer to file individual returns. In practically all cases married couples do better by filing a joint return. However, they must file separate returns if:

1. Either the husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time of the year.

2. Husband and wife use different tax years. The husband, for instance, may report on a fiscal year basis such as from July 1 to June 30, while the wife pays taxes on a calendar year basis.

3. The husband and wife became divorced or legally separated at any time of the year, up to and including Dec. 31.

If the separate return is used, each individual must report his own income and list his own exemptions and deductions.

If husband and wife file separately, both must have income under the laws of their state. Many states have community property laws where the wife has half the family income even though she earns nothing herself. In these states, where expenses are paid from community income, the deductions may be split equally between man and wife. In all cases where husband and wife file separate returns, if one itemizes the deductions, the other must also itemize.

If you file separately you may use either the form 1040 or the 1040A, depending on how you qualify as outlined in the previous article.

There are normally just two situations in which married couples can benefit by filing separately instead of jointly. Both are comparatively rare.

If both husband and wife are working, and both had capital losses of $1,000 or more, it might pay them to file separately. The law provides that no more than $1,000 in capital losses may be deducted on any one return. By filing separately, they could get a total deduction of $2,000.

The second situation involves medical expenses. Suppose that the husband had an adjusted gross income of $10,000 and no medical bills, and that the wife had an adjusted gross income of $5,000, with medical bills of $500.

The law provides that you can deduct only those medical and dental costs which exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. If this couple filed jointly they would be able to deduct only everything over $450 (3 per cent of their combined $15,000), or a deduction of $50. However, if the wife filed separately, she could deduct everything over $150 (3 per cent of her $5,000), or a deduction of $350.

Even so, in practically every case the advantages of splitting income with a joint return outweighs any savings made by separate reporting of medical and dental deductions.

A husband and wife may file a joint return and get the advantage of the lower tax rates even if one of them had no income during the year. Both husband and wife must sign the joint return, and it must include all the income earned by both of them. You can file a joint return if you were married any time during the year, and remained married for the balance of the year.

The joint return is a financial boon to most married couples because of the way the tax rate goes up as income increases—not because you pay on any less income. In effect, the joint income is split into two equal parts and the tax is found for one of the parts. The tax is then doubled. Your total tax, then, is the combined tax on the two halves, usually considerably smaller than it would be at the tax rate on the total income.

If your husband or wife died anytime during 1957—even on the first day of the year—you can still file a joint return and claim an exemption for your deceased spouse. In general you file just as you would have had your spouse lived through the year.

If your husband or wife died during 1955 or 1956 you still can get a tax break from Uncle Sam if you meet certain qualifications. That brings us to the special joint return for certain recent widows and widowers.

This return cannot be filed on the short and easy form 1040A, you must use form 1040. On the return you claim only your own exemption and deductions, but you use schedule two on page 11 of the instructions in figuring your tax and thus you get the benefit of the split income provisions.

Providing that your spouse died at anytime during 1955 or 1956, you get this tax break if:

You have not remarried through the end of 1957 (if you have, of course, you can file jointly with your new spouse);

You were entitled to file jointly with the deceased spouse at the time of death (he or she was not a nonresident alien, etc.); and

Since that death you have maintained a home which is the principal living place of a child or stepchild for whom you are entitled to claim a dependency exemption.

If your spouse died earlier than 1955, you may still get a tax break if you qualify as a special head of household.

This return, which can be made on the form 1040, is for single, divorced or legally separated persons who maintain a household. It also applies to anyone married during 1957 to a nonresident alien.

If you qualify as a "head of household" your tax bill will be lower than if you filed separately. Your special rates will be found in schedule three on page 11 of the instruction booklet that comes with form 1040. You will note that they are lower than those in schedule one for single taxpayers.

These are the requirements you must meet:

1. You must maintain a home which is the principal residence of your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or any other relative whom you are entitled to claim as a dependent, or

2. You must pay more than half the cost of maintaining a separate household for your mother or father, if either qualifies as your dependent. The test here is whether you pay more than half the cost of keeping the home, including such things as mortgage interest, rent, taxes, insurance on the home and the like.

The next article will deal with exemption, the biggest single tax-cutting device in the book.

Brooklyn's St. John's West Virginia Set Pace For Collegiate Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two-ranked West Virginia and untested St. John's of Brooklyn are the only clubs still unbeaten in major college basketball, but the situation might be different were it not for injury and illness.

The Mountaineers and Redmen might have the company of Cincinnati, Kansas or Kansas State if two or three players had been able to stay healthy.

Second-ranked Kansas (12-2) has been beaten only by Oklahoma State and Oklahoma. But Wilt (The Stilt) was on the sidelines for both games.

Fourth-ranked Cincinnati (12-2) has been knocked off by Bradley and Oklahoma State. But although Oscar Robertson, the leading major college scorer, was fit and played in both defeats, the Bearcats' big man, 6-10 Connie Dierking, was out with a broken bone in his foot.

Third-ranked Kansas State (12-1) has lost only to Kansas. But Bob Boozer, the Wildcats top scorer, played less than half the game because of an upset stomach.

West Virginia, running through 13 games to lead The Associated Press poll (none of the ranked teams was in action Tuesday night), and St. John's (8-0) meet Feb. 6 in New York's Madison Square Garden. West Virginia could be all alone in the undefeated list by then, however, since St. John's plays Pittsburgh (Jan. 30) and Temple (Feb. 1) on the road. St. John's is rated 13th.

Kansas and Kansas State meet again Feb. 3 at Kansas and again on March 8 at K-State.

Cincinnati will meet Bradley again Feb. 12, Oklahoma State Feb. 15—both at Cincinnati.

Maybe the toughest injury of the season was the broken leg that sidelined North Carolina's Joe Quigg. He had been the rebounder and take-charge guy for the Tar Heels, who were unbeaten in winning the NCAA title last year. They stretched the string to 37 games before losing to West Virginia, and now are eighth-ranked at 12-3.

Akins Seeks Tourney Bout After Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Virgil Akins, the battling church deacon from St. Louis, was headed for the welterweight elimination tournament today after blasting former champion Tony DeMarco into probable retirement.

"We're going to go along with our original agreement with the National Boxing Assn. and the World Committee to enter the championship tournament," said Bernie Glickman, co-manager of Akins, 29.

DeMarco, 26, today is attempting to shake off effects of a vicious beating absorbed before being stopped in the 12th round Tuesday night at the Garden. Three months ago Akins knocked out DeMarco in the 14th round.

The fight Tuesday night was for the Massachusetts version of the world's welterweight title, which Akins won in the same ring with DeMarco last Oct. 29.

Glickman said Akins would not agree to any other "title" bout which conflicts with the NBA-World Committee tournament agreement.

The World Committee and the New York State Athletic Commission refused to go along with a recent NBA vote sanctioning a championship bout between Isaac Logart and the winner of the Vince Martinez-Gil Turner fight, won by Martinez. The NBA also ruled the winner of the Logart bout should meet Akins with the championship at stake.

National League Plans Revamping Schedule
CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League has thrown out its current schedule of 1918 baseball games because of 16 changes by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Dave Grote, head of the league's service bureau, announced plans for revisions Tuesday and said the present schedule is obsolete.

He said a revised schedule will be submitted to National League members this weekend in New York. It may be two weeks before the new schedule is ready.

Ohio Bird Dogs Shine In Mississippi Test
HERNANDO, Miss. (AP)—Twelve more dogs take the field today in the National Amateur Shooting Dog Stake and the gallery agreed they would have to turn in some fancy performances to top two Ohio dogs that ran Tuesday.

Blue Ridge Prospect and Judge Tom M. running in separate braces, turned up four finds each. Blue Ridge is owned by James Sada of Niles, the Judge by Bill Lavin of Girard.

Lions Win in Overtime Game at Westerville

Terry Stillings, a stand-in sophomore guard with only fragmentary varsity experience, came through with nine field goals for the Washington C. H. Lions A. Westerville Tuesday night—including the two crucial ones that gave the Lions a 53-51 overtime victory.

Stillings was more than filling the shoes of Guard Larry Misteard, top Lion scorer, who quit the squad just before the game on the heels of scholastic difficulty. His 18-point debut performance was one of the best jobs by a sophomore hereabouts in recent memory.

Protected by the rebound power of Tom Swain, Stillings scored two fast layups on three shots in the overtime period to boost the score from 49-49 to the final 53-51. It gave the Lions a 7-5 record for the season, and got them in shape for a crucial game with Circleville Friday.

WESTERVILLE, playing conservative possession ball, held the lead through the first two periods, keeping the Lions' score down to a scant 20 points. The visitors didn't start to move until the third frame, when they edged into a slim, 37-36 lead.

In the fourth frame, the Lions held the lead until the last 20 seconds of play, when a Westerville jump shot tied the score, throwing the game into overtime.

Stillings scored the first overtime basket after a turnover and crashing through for another layup. He snatched the ball again shortly after, took another layup, and missed.

But Swain, who covered the boards as if he owned them, gave Stillings another chance. He came through, and Westerville's long overtime basket wasn't enough to undo the job.

Both teams shot about 40 per cent in the contest.

This was the first time this season the Lions have worked without the services of Misteard, who has been leading scoring with a 20-plus per game average.

To take up the slack, Bill Southworth scored 10 points, Tom Swain, nine, and Bill Herman and Bob Burris, six apiece, with Jim McWilliams getting four.

The Lions trampled Westerville in the reserve contest, moving in fast at the start for a 44-29 victory.

Only 4 New Rookie Faces Listed on Bosox Roster

NEW YORK (AP)—The Boston Red Sox roster lists a dozen rookies but with the exception of pitchers Clarence Churn and Gary Blaylock, infielder Joe Tanner and outfielder Albie Pierson, all have been up before.

Those back for another inspection include pitchers Frank Baumann and Leo Kieley, outfielder Marty Keough. Second baseman Ken Aspromonte and pitcher Murray Wall were called up late last season. Churn worked in 67 games with San Francisco in the Pacific Coast League last year and turned in a 2.78 earned run average while posting a 9-7 record. The 26-year-old Virginian stands 6-3 and weighs 205.

Kieley returns after a tremendous season with San Francisco. The 28-year-old southpaw won 21 and lost 6, although used almost exclusively in relief, to rank as the coast league's top winner. He permitted only 119 hits in 146 innings and turned in a remarkable 2.22 earned run average.

Also called for a third trial is Baumann, the $100,000 bonus southpaw. He was only 10-11 at Oklahoma City.

Wall, a 31-year-old right-hander, was obtained from Dallas last September on the strength of a 16-7 mark and 1.79 earned run average. Brought up after the close of the Texas League season, Wall won all his three games with the Red Sox.

Blaylock, drafted from the St. Louis Cardinals organization, was 10-11 at Rochester. He is 26 and a right-hander.

Aspromonte has the regular second base job if he can ward off incumbents like Gene Mauch and Billy Consolo. The 25-year-old was impressive last September after his promotion from San Francisco where he led the league with his .334 average.

Keough, a $75,000 bonus player in 1952, has four years of top minor league experience. He batted .285 at San Francisco last year and was one of the league's better flycatchers. Pearson, a 5-6 southpaw swinger, was .297 with the Seals. He is regarded as an expert leadoff man and a good hitter. Tanner, .333 at San Francisco, is a speed merchant who may surprise.

5 College Games Played By Ohioans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two conference games highlighted five college basketball games played in the state Tuesday night, but neither tilt had any bearing on the leaders.

In the Ohio Conference Muskingum crushed Ohio Wesleyan 80-52. The outcome did not change the conference standings. The Muskies are fifth (4-2) and Wesleyan remained eighth (3-6).

Muskingum's Larry Young topped the scoring with 22 points. Teammates Dave Irvin and Dick McClelland each had 21.

In the Mid-Ohio League, Findlay sent Ohio Northern into a tie for last place by defeating the Polar Bears 98-78.

Fred Tolinski tallied 28 for the Oilers to lead them to their eighth victory in 10 games. They are 3-1 in the league. Northern is 1-4 in the league and 2-7 for the season.

Elsewhere, Defiance took the lead with 1:28 remaining to down Wilberforce 74-71. Penn College lost its fourth in a row, 59-57, to Clarion (Pa.) State and Bliss College of Columbus picked up its 23rd victory by dropping Kentucky State 97-92.

BACK WITH ILLINI -- Tommy O'Connell, who quarterbacked the Cleveland Browns to the eastern division pro football crown, is testing in his lot with his alma mater, the University of Illinois, where he will become an assistant coach. O'Connell holds 16 Illinois passing records.

Brown Tags Plum As His Top QB

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now that quarterback Tommy O'Connell has retired, Cleveland Browns Coach Paul E. Brown says Milt Plum "is the fellow the others will have to beat."

Brown, a guest at Tuesday night's ribs and roast program here, said Plum can throw the ball and also is big and mobile.

O'Connell left the Browns for a backfield coaching post at the University of Illinois.

Plum, a rookie with the Browns last season, gave a brilliant demonstration of passing and broken field running in leading the Browns to a 22-28 victory over the New York Giants last season.

Jesse Lasky Followed Set Formula in Movie-Making

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles tracing the career of the late Jesse Lasky, famed motion picture producer.

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U)—Pioneer producer Jesse Lasky once gave this observation of film making:

"The public wants sheer entertainment with a little uplift, a little hope. It does not want depressing stories, unhappy endings (with an occasional exception) and it does not care much for fantasy. "But that is only a formula. To find stories that contain those elements is another matter."

Lasky devoted the last 12 years of his life to such a quest. Broke and removed as head of Paramount, which he helped found, he devoted his intense enthusiasm to finding suitable film subjects and selling them to the studios and the public.

One of his first films as an independent was "The Power and the Glory," which told its story in flashback after the death of the hero, a technique later used by others. The film started Spencer Tracy on the road to stardom. Lasky had signed tenor Nino Martini, but had two failures. Undaunted, Lasky tried again with "The Gay Desperado" when he joined forces with Mary Pickford to produce movies. This time, Martini paid off as a big hit. During a lull in producing, Lasky decided to dip into radio. He promoted a show called "Gateway to Hollywood," in which unknowns were given a chance to act dramatic roles opposite well-known stars. Two of the winners were Josephine Cottle and Lee Bonnell, who got married and now have four children. Mrs. Bonnell is better known as Gale Storm.

The producer got back into films in a big way with "Sergeant York." He followed this with two other successful biographies at Warner Brothers—"The Adventures of Mark Twain" and "Rhapsody in Blue," the George Gershwin story.

Taking his company to RKO, Lasky starred Claudette Colbert and John Wayne in a rollicking comedy, "Without Reservations."

IN THE PROBATE COURT
FAYETTE COUNTY, OHIO
Ray R. Maddox, Administrator of the Estate of Charles Frye, deceased, Plaintiff, vs. Frank L. Green, et al. Defendants, No. C-4299.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE
In pursuance of the order of the Probate Court of Fayette County, Ohio, I will offer for sale at public auction on the 30th day of January, 1958, at 10:00 A. M., at the west door of the Court House, the following described real estate:

Situate, in the State of Ohio, County of Fayette and Township of Madison: Beginning at a stake southeast corner to Morgan County lands in the line in possession of John G. Oldman, thence S. 30 deg. E. 34 poles to a small barren oak tree and black oak; thence S. 61 deg. E. 44 poles to a stake; thence S. 80 deg. W. 55 poles to the beginning, containing 4 acres and 108 rods, being part of Survey No. 9731 entered in the names of Baldwin and Wallace. Subject to all legal highways.

Said premises are appraised at six hundred fifty dollars ($650.00) and must be sold for not less than two-thirds of said appraised value and the terms of sale are cash in hand on date of sale.

Ray R. Maddox, Administrator of the Estate of Charles Frye deceased

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.
Alvin H. Shough, whose residence is 4 Demott, Teanock, N. H. Jersey; Edith Alice Rasmussen, whose residence is 830 S. ## Changes in Agriculture Outlined for Rotarians

The changes in modern agriculture, particularly the revolutionary developments in feeding meat animals and poultry, were outlined for Rotary Club members Tuesday by Dr. W. C. Heinz, president of the Dr. Heinz Co. at Bloomingburg.

Dr. Heinz, who was introduced by his son, William L. Heinz, executive vice president of the firm, analyzed some of the changes since the Heinz Co. moved its feed plant from Cincinnati to Fayette County 10 years ago.

The most significant of all those changes has been in the livestock feed business itself which has seen the substitution of concentrated food pellets, containing all of the nutrients, chemicals and vitamins necessary for growth, for conventional forage and grain combinations.

These concentrated foods, Dr. Heinz said, will mean a better and more bountiful food supply for Americans, additional profit for the farmer and a saving of time and labor in agriculture generally.

THE SPEAKER pointed out that he could not be sure which nations of the world would build the most satellites, but that he is sure that the American farmer can out-produce any farmer on the face of the earth.

Dr. Heinz said that in 1957, with less land under cultivation than ever before in the modern history of U. S. agriculture, and with sharp restrictions on crops, the farm yield was one of the highest on record and the yield per acre definitely was the highest.

He sees a continuation of high land values, adding that good land supports the dollar and forms the basis for a high standard of living. At the same time, he sees an even greater efficiency on the farm—with increasingly fewer and increasingly larger farm units, a greater trend toward specialization, and more efficiency through better agricultural machinery and improved feeding of livestock.

Among the other developments he forecasts for the future are:

City Studies Aid for Kin Of Benefactor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus officials today are trying to find a way to help a 93-year-old granddaughter of one of this city's early benefactors, Jacob Hare.

The woman, Miss Lida B. Tewksbury, a resident of a Lutheran home in Muscatine, Iowa, wrote to Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and identified herself as the granddaughter of Hare. When he died in 1860, Hare willed the city securities and properties near the center of town.

Miss Tewksbury wrote, "I want to ask you gentlemen of Columbus, Ohio, if you can help me. I would be so thankful if you could."

She said her only income is an $82.50-a-month old age pension check and after paying her board and room at the home, she has $2.50 a month left over. This, she noted, is hardly enough to pay a $51 doctor bill and for "my brother's burial."

The income from Hare's gift to the city supports the Hare Orphan's Home. In addition, about $22,000 was set aside in the Hare Charity Fund for the "benefit of the poor and unfortunate of Columbus."

City Attorney Russell Leach said if the woman lived in Columbus, only the approval of city council would be necessary to give her aid. However, Leach said he believes the will may prohibit any benefits since Miss Tewksbury resides in Iowa.

Leach said the city may have to ask some Columbus charitable agency to help the woman.

Inner Security Talk Heard by BPW Club Here

The Rev. W. Neil Hand Tells of Need of Faith by World

"The problems of our country are the problems of the whole world," the Rev. W. Neil Hand told the Business and Professional Women's Club as he developed the theme, "Promoting an Inner Spiritual Security Among Our Members," in his talk at Tuesday night's meeting at the Country Club.

The Rev. Mr. Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, declared that "by development of inner spiritual security, we should have faith to overcome doubts and anxieties. He also pointed out that "we must have faith to feel security."

One of the greatest problems of the world today, he said, stems from the need of faith in each other as well as the whole world.

"We want security on our own terms," he declared and reminded that "the world does not see or think alike."

Security cannot be secured, he declared, "by believing we are God's chosen people."

THE PROGRAM was arranged by the National Security Committee of the club and was based on the organization's six-phase security program: (1) Civil defense; (2) ground observer corps; (3) combating Communism and subversive organizations; (4) positive Americanism and positive citizenship; (5) conservation of natural resources and (6) promoting inner spiritual security among our neighbors.

The Rev. Mr. Hand spoke on the sixth phase, following the dinner.

The program was opened by Mrs. Fred Shoop, committee chairman, who presented the Washington C. H. string ensemble of Mrs. Charles Sheridan, Mrs. John P. Case, Mrs. Maurice Hopkins, Mrs. Otis B. Core, Mrs. Don Schwaigert and Mrs. Robert Parrett. Mrs. John Rhoads was the accompanist.

Following the program and the Rev. Mr. Hand's talk, the business meeting was held, with the president, Miss Marie Marchant, presiding.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Roger Whippley and the treasurer's report by Miss Grace Huston. Miss Florence Cook, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Mt. Logan Sanatorium, thanking the club for the gifts sent to sanatorium patients at Christmas.

Members of the program committee, headed by Mrs. Shoop, are Mrs. Duane Baker, Mrs. John Boone, Mrs. Orville Boylan, Mrs. Chester Clay, Mrs. Howard Dellinger, Miss Norma Flee, Mrs. Donald Graves, Mrs. Caroline Self, Miss Kathleen Stoekey and Mrs. Madge Winter.

At the meeting with 80 members of the club were three guests, Mrs. Hand, Mrs. Anna Creamer and Mrs. Raymond Bishop.

Soviet Skipper Hails U.S. Aid

HONOLULU (AP)—The skipper of a disabled Russian freighter Gen. Panfilov praised the reception given him at the tightly restricted U. S. Navy station at Midway Island Tuesday.

The Navy, which did not name the skipper, said he sent a message to the Soviet port of Vladivostok saying: "Arrived today US naval station Midway and received excellent attention, service and cooperation from pilot and command."

The Panfilov and another Russian ship, the Odessa, were granted permission to enter the area after being damaged in a Pacific storm last week.

County Youths Promoted

ROBERT W. DRESBAUGH

Two Fayette County youths have assumed special responsibilities with their Navy basic training units at Great Lakes, Ill.

Robert W. Dresbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Dresbaugh of 316 Wilson St., has been appointed a squad leader of his company.

Robert M. Montgomery, son of

ROBERT M. MONTGOMERY

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, was appointed second platoon leader of his training group.

Another Navy man, William C. Randolph, airman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Randolph of 1004 1/2 S. Fayette St., has won advancement. He is now attending the Aviation Machinist's Mate School at Memphis, Tenn., where he is working with jets.

British A-Center Studies Harnessing of H-Energy

By NORMAN MOSS

HARWELL, England (AP)—A bleak, windy onetime air base nestling in the hills outside this village is now Britain's atomic energy research establishment, where scientists are making vital advances in understanding and using the atom.

The latest of these experiments is aimed at harnessing for peace the immense power of the hydrogen bomb. An announcement of a victory in this respect is expected Friday.

Harwell is a working community of scientists run the way scientists want it run. Its atmosphere, despite barbed wire and guards, is that of an intellectually high-powered campus.

In 1945, the British government decided on a crash program to give this country peaceful atomic power and its own atom bomb. Some top scientists insisted the center be run by one of their number, Sir John Cockcroft, and not by a government official.

Cockcroft, a honey, mild-mannered physicist and Nobel Prize winner who helped build the first atom bomb, is a brilliant scientist and an able administrator.

He took over Harwell from the R.A.F. in 1946, and now the field has a staff of 6,000. The world is all research; Britain's atomic electricity and atomic weapons are produced elsewhere.

In one of Harwell's white brick laboratories, a team of scientists led by an Australian, a Canadian and an Englishman are believed to have carried out an experiment that resulted in the fusion of two atoms of processed hydrogen into one atom. This released a microscopic amount of energy.

But this microscopic amount may be of world-shaking significance.

The Harwell experiment, if it proves successful, as expected, will be the first time hydrogen energy has been tapped on a non-explosive scale. Though H-power for industry may still be 10 years of work away, this would be a major break through.

Invited to tour Harwell — 55 miles from London—with a party of newspapermen a while ago, I was surprised to find that I was not security checked. I said as much to a Harwell official.

"We don't class visitors as good or bad security risks," he said.

"Secrets we don't show to anyone."

Ousted Union Chiefs Called

Probers Checking Lush Land Deal Profits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two ousted officials of the Operating Engineers Union were called before Senate rackets probes today for questioning about testimony linking them to $59,955.76 of "hidden profits" on a union land deal.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the special Senate committee, said Victor S. Swanson, fired as an international vice president and San Francisco boss of the union, and Ed Doran, suspended business agent of the San Francisco local, would be asked about testimony that they split the profits on land deals carried out through "dummies."

Swanson and Doran have been listed by Kennedy as members of a self-styled reformer group which sought to oust William E. Maloney as the union's international president at its 1956 convention. Swanson had pledged a major cleanup of the union's affairs.

Maloney, himself under fire in the committee's inquiry, has pleaded he is too ill to testify. He did not respond to a subpoena.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) described the union as one with a history of violence including "gangland killings."

Pierrre Salinger, a staff investigator for the committee, testified that land deals with funds of the sprawling San Francisco local 3 produced $59,955.76 of hidden profits for Doran and Swanson.

Salinger said the local put up $33,500 in 1953 to buy land in Stockton, Calif., on which to build a $300,000 labor center. He described a series of transactions in which the land was divided into three parcels and sold through "dummies" — thus covering up, he said, how much actually was received in the sale. He said the local bought back the third parcel in 1955 for $35,000, or more than it had paid for the entire tract to begin with. Nothing in the union's books, Salinger said, showed that the officers had reaped a profit.

Fayette Countian Takes Short Course

Curt Coil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Coil of Bloomingburg, Route 1, is enrolled in a special eight-week short course in the Ohio State University College of Agriculture. Coil is the only Fayette Countian out of 43 enrolled in this special school. This is the first time the college has given this type of academic training for farm men. The 43 men ranged in age from 18 to 46.

Coil is taking 30 hours of class work a week and his course includes feed and feeding, farm business management, selection and breeding, farm machinery, farm pest and weed control, fertilizer and fertility.

The Fayette County Farm Bureau Co-Operative Assn. has voted to give a $75 scholarship each year to a Fayette County resident who attends the short course with the hope that in future years interest in the school will be increased.

Jesse Lynch Williams won the first Pulitzer Prize for a theatrical play, "Why Marry?" in 1918.

Financiers Hail Discount Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Financial circles forecast a boost for business and the stock market as a result of the Federal Reserve Board's approval of a lower discount rate today at the Philadelphia Reserve Bank.

News of the money-easing move, a reduction in the discount rate from 3 to 2 3/4 per cent for that district, raised prices on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange in San Francisco Tuesday.

The exchange still had 45 minutes of trading time remaining when the announcement was issued.

The Philadelphia district reduction is effective today. The other Federal Reserve banks are expected to request similar reductions shortly.

The discount rate is the interest Federal Reserve Banks charge their member banks for borrowed money.

The reduction will permit commercial banks to lower their own interest charges to corporations and individuals, thus encouraging the financing of new product lines, plant expansions and other business ventures.

New York's biggest bank, the Chase Manhattan, immediately said it was cutting its prime interest rate — that charged big borrowers with top credit ratings — from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent today. Some observers predicted other big institutions would follow quickly.

Wall Street reaction generally was optimistic. Some sources there, however, expressed disappointment because the rate was not dropped to 2 1/2 per cent.

Here are some Wall Street comments:

Bache & Co.: "The move is along the lines of the program indicated to aid business, through easing of the money situation, which should invariably affect the stock market."

A. W. Zelomek, an economist: "If it is reflected in a cut in interest rates by banks, then it is a really encouraging development for business."

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson described the decision as a "proper" one, and "continued evidence of the flexible use of the Federal Reserve mechanisms in the national interest."

Sales Tax Money Distributed Here

A new distribution of local government (sales tax) money is being made here this week, County Auditor Harry R. Allen announced Wednesday.

The size of each check will be based on allocations made by the Fayette County Budget Commission last August.

Each township will receive $340.06 in the current distribution, the county government will get $1,454.81 and the city of Washington C. H. $1,291.23.

Other allocations are: Jeffersonville, $129.06; Octa, $20.13; Bloomingburg, $90.11; Milledgeville, $28.06.
